

UPCOMING EVENTS & CONFERENCES

CONFERENCE ON REFORMING THE UNITED NATIONS – TODA INSTITUTE, FEBRUARY 2006

The Toda Institute for Global Peace and Policy Research is celebrating their 10th Anniversary with an international conference to discuss the issue of reforming the UN. The topic stands out from many reports and will serve as a strong platform on which to discuss global peace and policy issues. More info: www.toda.org

FELLOWSHIP AND GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

Visiting Fellowships

SPONSOR: East-West Center

Due December 31, 2005

Each year, the East-West Center offers residential fellowships to undertake research and publication on an annual theme.

http://www.eastwestcenter.org/stored/misc/POS_CO.htm

Master's in Public Policy, Public Administration, and Public Administration/International Development Fellowships for 2006/2007 – Kokkalis Program:

Due January 6, 2006

Opportunities for fellowships are available to students from Southeastern and East-Central Europe who are applying to Master's programs at Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government. Applicants must hold an undergraduate degree recognized by their native state and should show dedication to public service and the region of Southeastern Europe.

<http://www.ksg.harvard.edu/kokkalis/fellowships.html> Due January 6, 2006

The Public Policy Institute of California is an independent, nonpartisan, non-profit research institution, based in San Francisco. The institute informs policymaking by producing and disseminating high-quality, objective research on a range of public policy issues that are of relevance to California. PPIC has a number of positions available for researchers from a variety of backgrounds - research fellow, senior fellow, and policy analyst. Details for each position and specific application instructions are posted on our website, at

<http://www.ppic.org/main/opportunities.asp>

Visit www.ppic.org for access to PPIC's research and for details on the Institute's programs and research expertise.

The NDSEG Fellowship program is sponsored by the Department of Defense with the goal of providing the United States with talented, doctorally trained American men and women who will lead state of the art research projects in disciplines having the greatest payoff to national defense requirements. The Fellowships are awards conferring high honors upon the recipients, three years of full support in pursuit of a doctoral degree in disciplines of military importance in science and engineering, and are portable, allowing the recipients to pursue their graduate studies at whatever U.S. institution they choose to attend. The NDSEG program is open only to U.S. citizens and nationals, and is intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate studies who intend to pursue their Ph.D.

www.asee.org/ndseg.

Due January 6, 2006

AAAS Risk Policy Fellowships in Health, Safety, and the Environment

SPONSOR: American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

Due January 10, 2006

The fellowships are designed (1) to provide an opportunity to learn first-hand how scientific and technical information is accessed, organized, and used in policy-making relating to risk assessment and risk management; (2) to provide a unique public policy learning experience; (3) to demonstrate the value of science, technology, and economics in addressing societal problems; and (4) to make practical contributions to the more effective use of scientific and technical knowledge in the programs of the U.S. government.

http://fellowships.aaas.org/02_Areas/02_Risk_Policy.shtml

AAAS Roger Revelle Fellowship in Global Stewardship

SPONSOR: American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

Due January 10, 2006

Applications are invited from U.S. citizens in any physical, biological, or social science, any field of engineering, or any relevant interdisciplinary field. Applicants must have (1) a Ph.D. or an equivalent doctoral-level degree and at least three years of post-degree professional experience by the application deadline, or (2) a master's degree in engineering and six years of post-degree, professional experience. Persons from underrepresented minority groups and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

http://fellowships.aaas.org/02_Areas/02_GlobalStewardship.shtml

AAAS/NTI Fellowships in Global Security

SPONSOR: American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

Due January 10, 2006

Applications will be accepted from U.S. citizens who: have an M.D., D.V.M., Dr.P.H., or a Ph.D. in the biological sciences, public health, or a related field by the application deadline, demonstrate exceptional competence in an area of biological science or public health, are able to write clearly, are able to articulate scientific concepts for non-scientific audiences, have the ability to work productively in an interdisciplinary setting with policy-makers and others outside the public health and medical/bioscience communities, have an interest in applying public health, medical and scientific knowledge to national security and foreign policy issues, have an appreciation of political, social, and economic issues, and have a strong desire to reduce the global threat of bioweapon use.

http://fellowships.aaas.org/02_Areas/02_GlobalSecurity.shtml

AAAS Diplomacy Fellowships

SPONSOR: American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

Due January 10, 2006

Fellows spend one year working in (1) one of several bureaus of the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), (2) the U.S. Department of State (State), (3) the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), or (4) the National Institutes of Health's Fogarty International Center (FIC). Individuals will be selected whose scientific and technical backgrounds can contribute to international affairs, foreign policy, international development, or advancing medical research through international cooperation. The program includes an orientation on international affairs and executive branch and congressional operations, and a year-long seminar series on issues involving science, technology, and public policy.

http://fellowships.aaas.org/02_Areas/02_Diplomacy.shtml

Eliose Gerry Fellowships

Sigma Delta Epsilon/Graduate Women in Science, Inc. National Headquarters

Due January 15, 2006

Awards will be made to women holding a degree from a recognized institution of higher learning, of outstanding ability and promise in research, who are performing research at any institution in the United States or abroad. Postdoctoral fellows can expect to be evaluated more rigorously than student applicants.

<http://www.gwis.org/grants/default.htm#ap>

Lois F. McNeil Dissertation Research Fellowships

Winterthur Museum, Garden and Library Research Fellowship Program

Due January 15, 2006

Winterthur offers a residential Research Fellowship Program for scholars pursuing independent work in Winterthur's library or museum collections. Winterthur's library holdings include materials from the 17th century through 1930; museum collections contain domestic artifacts and works of art made or used in America to 1860. Winterthur awards fellowships to scholars pursuing promising research in American art, history, material culture, and design, or related topics in British, Continental, or Asian decorative arts and design.

http://www.winterthur.org/research/fellowship.asp?sub=fellowships_avail

Pacific Rim Research Program

Due January 17, 2006

The Pacific Rim Research Program is a multi-campus program established to encourage Pacific Rim research on the ten University of California campuses. It sponsors a competitive grants program that provides funds for U.of California faculty and graduate students who do research on Pacific Rim topics in a variety of disciplines.

<http://www.ucop.edu/research/pacrim/>

Alexia Competition – Student Grant

Alexia Foundation for World Peace

Due February 1, 2006

The first place winner will receive (1) a $9,000 scholarship toward tuition, fees, and living expenses to study photojournalism in London in the fall semester through the Syracuse University Division of International Programs Abroad; and (2) a grant of $1,000 for completing the proposed picture story. An additional $500 will be awarded to the sponsoring academic department.

<http://www.alexiafoundation.org/studentrule.html>

Fellowships in Science and International Affairs

SPONSOR: Harvard University

Due February 1, 2006

Applications for research fellowships are welcome from recent recipients of the Ph.D. or equivalent degree, university faculty members, and employees of government, military, international, humanitarian, and private research institutions who have appropriate professional experience. Applicants for predoctoral fellowships must have passed general examinations prior to appointment. BCSIA seeks applications from lawyers, economists, those in the physical sciences, and others of diverse disciplinary backgrounds. BCSIA also encourages applications from women, minorities, and citizens of all countries.

<http://ksgnotes1.harvard.edu/bcsia/bcsia.nsf/www/fellowships>

Major Grant

Illinois Humanities Council

Due February 15, 2006 & July 15, 2006

The Illinois Humanities Council (IHC) is a nonprofit educational organization dedicated to fostering a culture in which the humanities are a vital part of the lives of individuals and communities. Organized in 1974 as the state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), the IHC promotes greater understanding of, appreciation for, and involvement in the humanities by the citizens of Illinois, regardless of their economic resources, cultural background, or geographic location. The IHC is funded by the NEH, the State of Illinois, and by contributions from individuals, corporations, and foundations.

<http://www.prairie.org/grants>

Otto Klineberg Intercultural and International Relations Award

SPONSOR: Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues (SPSSI)

Due February 15, 2006

Entries can be either unpublished manuscripts, in press papers or books, or papers or books published no more than 18 months prior to the submission deadline. The competition is open to nonmembers, as well as members of SPSSI, and graduate students are especially urged to submit papers.

http://www.spssi.org/Klineberg_flyer.html

DAAD/AICGS Research Fellowship

SPONSOR: American Institute for Contemporary German Studies (AICGS)

Due February 15, 2006

The American Institute for Contemporary German Studies (AICGS) accepting applications for the DAAD/AICGS Research Fellowship Program. The program is designed to bring scholars and specialists working on Germany, Europe, or transatlantic relations to AICGS for research stays.

<http://www.aicgs.org/research/fellowships/daadfellowship.shtml>

Grants: Altman Foundation, Jennifer (JAF)

Due CONTINUOUS

The Jenifer Altman Foundation (JAF) is a private foundation dedicated to the vision of a socially just and ecologically sustainable future through program interests in environmental health and mind-body health.

<http://www.jaf.org/about/HOME%20index.html>

Environment Grants

SPONSOR: ExxonMobil Corporation

Due CONTINUOUS

ExxonMobil supports a wide range of programs that foster scientific research on important environmental issues, encourage informed public discussion of scientifically sound environmental policy alternatives, and study and preserve endangered species and habitats.

http://exxonmobil.com/Corporate/Citizenship/gcr_contributionsworldwide_givingguidelines.asp

Public Information and Policy Research Grants

SPONSOR: ExxonMobil Corporation

Due CONTINUOUS

ExxonMobil supports organizations that research significant domestic and foreign policy issues and promote informed public discussion on issues such as economics, the environment, and law and justice.

http://exxonmobil.com/Corporate/Citizenship/gcr_contributionsworldwide_givingguidelines.asp

Initiative for Research in a Cross-Cultural Leadership Development Program

This Initiative was created to fund research in the area of cross-cultural leadership. The founders are specifically interested in building individual capacity to inspire people of varying national, religious or philosophical cultures to take action toward a common vision and to accomplish common goals.

Contact Terry Pearce

terry@terrypearce.com (with copy to sue@terrypearce.com) for clarification or questions.