

IGCC Campus Alert

October 2006

von Humboldt Foundation, Alexander (AvH) Scholar Award Programs

Due October 31, 2006

The program provides for a stay of one year in Germany for professional development, study, or research. Through their experiences as German Chancellor Scholars, individuals are exposed to the political, economic, social, and cultural life of Germany.

http://www.humboldt-foundation.de/en/programme/stip_aus/buka.htm

Lionel Gelber Prize

Anticipated deadline October 31, 2006

The Lionel Gelber Prize was founded by Canadian diplomat Lionel Gelber. The Gelber Prize honours the excellence of those who think and write about the local and global forces of change in international relations. The prize seeks to deepen public debate on significant global issues by broadening the readership of important nonfiction books on international affairs.

<http://www.utoronto.ca/mcis/gelber/>

International Dissertation Research Fellowships

Due November 1, 2006

The IDRF program is committed to scholarship that advances knowledge about non-U.S. cultures and societies grounded in em-

Switzer Environmental Fellowship Program

Due January 11, 2007

The goal of the Switzer Environmental Fellowship Program is to support highly talented graduate students in New England and California whose studies are directed toward improving environmental quality and who demonstrate leadership in their field.

<http://www.switzernetwork.org/fellowship-overview.html>

Multi-Country Research Fellowship Program for Advanced Multi-Country Research

Due January 12, 2007

The Council of American Overseas Research Centers (CAORC) announces a fellowship program that supports advanced regional research. The program is open to U.S. doctoral candidates and scholars who have already earned their Ph.D. in fields in the humanities, social sciences, or allied natural sciences and wish to conduct research of regional or transregional significance. Fellowships require scholars to conduct research in more than one country, at least one of which hosts a participating American overseas research center. Preference will be given to candidates examining comparative or cross-regional questions requiring research in two or more countries.

<http://www.caorc.org/fellowships/multi/>

Marine Policy Fellowship Program

Due January 15, 2007

The three main objectives of the fellowship program are: to provide support and experience to pirical and site-specific research (involving fieldwork, research in archival or manuscript collections, or quantitative data collection). The program promotes research that is at once located in a specific discipline and geographical region and engaged with interdisciplinary and cross-regional perspectives. <http://www.ssrc.org/programs/idrf/>

University of Notre Dame
Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies
Due November 1, 2006

The Kroc Institute brings together outstanding scholars to conduct peace-related research, broadly defined. Themes include the peacemaking role of international norms, policies, and institutions; approaches to the study and resolution of violence; and the quest for social, economic, and environmental justice. http://www.nd.edu/~krocinst/visiting_fellows/visfell0708.shtml

International Networking of Young Scientists - Arctic Frontiers - Balancing Human Use and Ecosystem Protection
Due November 1, 2006

The Arctic is a region facing environmental threats and increasing economic pressures. This INYS event aims to expose UK scientists to Arctic scientific challenges through the Arctic Frontiers international conference and a Young Researchers' Workshop (www.arctic-frontiers.com). There will be opportunities for seminars, informal discussion, and scientific presentations to allow participants to develop contacts and future research plans relating to the Arctic marine environment. <http://www.sams.ac.uk/>

Program on Global Studies
Research Funding for Graduate Students
Due November 15, 2006

research fellows interested in marine policy issues, to provide opportunities for interdisciplinary application of social sciences and natural sciences to marine policy problems, and to conduct research and convey information necessary for the development of effective local, national, and international ocean policy. http://www.whoi.edu/education/postdoctoral/mpc_app.html

David L. Boren Graduate Fellowships
Due January 30, 2007

The National Security Education Program (NSEP) David L. Boren Graduate Fellowships support students pursuing the study of languages, cultures, and world regions that are critical to United States interests (including Africa, Asia, Central and Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America and the Caribbean, and the Middle East). NSEP areas of focus include the following: U.S. National Security Focus, International Focus, and Language Study. <http://www.iie.org/programs/nsep/graduate/default.htm>

Charles G. Koch Summer Fellow Program
Due January 31, 2007

The Charles G. Koch Summer Fellow Program seeks to bring bright, articulate, motivated students with an interest in market-based public policy to Washington, District of Columbia. <http://www.theihs.org/article.php/131.html>

Travel Grants in Southeast European Studies
Due February 1, 2007

ACLS will offer Travel Grants as travel support to assist U.S. scholars who wish to deliver papers at formal academic conferences that will take place between June 1, 2007, and December 31, 2008. Topics of papers must be related to Southeastern Europe. <http://www.acls.org/seguide.htm>

Two student research stipends ($500 each) are provided each year to support original research projects on global processes and social change. One page proposals stating the research problem and plan should be submitted to Kenneth Barr, Associate Director of the UCR Program on Global Studies. For information email: kenneth.barr@ucr.edu

International Research and Exchanges Board (IREX) Grant Opportunities for U.S. Scholars

Due November 15, 2006

The International Research and Exchanges Programs' Individual Advanced Research Opportunities (IARO) program seeks to attract those interested in Southeast Europe and Eurasia, as well as to disseminate knowledge about these regions to a wide network of constituents in the United States and abroad. The IARO program provides fellows with the means and support necessary to conduct in-country research on contemporary political, economic, historical, or cultural developments relevant to U.S. foreign policy.

<http://www.irex.org/programs/iaro/>

Eurasia Title VIII Dissertation Workshops
Due November 30, 2006

The Eurasia Program Dissertation Development Workshops bring together 10-12 doctoral students and five to six faculty participants for two to three days of intensive critical discussion of the students' dissertation projects, as well as larger theoretical and methodological issues. Graduate students in the social sciences and related humanities, at any stage in their dissertation projects, are eligible to apply.

http://www.ssrc.org/programs/eurasia/Title8_Dissertation_Workshops/index.page

Bicentennial Swedish-American Exchange Fund
Due February 2, 2007

The Bicentennial Swedish-American Exchange Fund is a professional travel grant administered by the Consulate General of Sweden in New York in support of intensive research trips to Sweden of two to four weeks in length. Applicants should have well-developed projects within the fields of politics, public policy, economics, science, healthcare, education, media or culture.

http://www.swedenabroad.com/pages/general_18552.asp

Pacific Rim Research Program

Due October 16, 2006 and February 15, 2007

The Pacific Rim Research Program is a multi-campus program established to encourage Pacific Rim research on the ten University of California campuses. It sponsors a competitive grants program that provides funds for University of California faculty and graduate students who do research on Pacific Rim topics in a variety of disciplines.

<http://www.ucop.edu/research/pacrim/>

Thomas R. Pickering Graduate Foreign Affairs Fellowship Program (GFAF)

Due February 5, 2007

The goal of the fellowship program is to attract outstanding students who enroll in two-year master's degree programs and who have an interest in pursuing a Foreign Service career in the U.S. Department of State. The program develops a source of trained men and women who will represent the skill needs of the department and who are dedicated to representing America's interests abroad.

<http://www.woodrow.org/public-policy/GFAFapplication.php>

British Society for Middle Eastern Studies (BRISMES)

Due February 10, 2007

Japanese-Language Program for Researchers and Postgraduate Students

Due December 1, 2006

The Japanese-language Program for Researchers and Postgraduate Students is an intensive training course in Japanese-language for scholars, researchers and postgraduate students who major in the fields of the social sciences or humanities, who wish to be engaged in jobs related to Japanese-studies in future, and need to learn Japanese-language for their academic research activities.

<http://www.jpf.go.jp/e/about/program/list.html#2>

East Asia and Pacific Summer Institutes for U.S. Graduate Students

Due December 12, 2006

The East Asia and Pacific Summer Institutes provide U.S. graduate students in science and engineering: 1) first-hand research experience in Australia, China, Japan, Korea, New Zealand or Taiwan; 2) an introduction to the science and science policy infrastructure of the respective location; and 3) orientation to the society, culture and language. The primary goals of EAPSI are to introduce students to East Asia and Pacific science and engineering in the context of a research laboratory, and to initiate personal relationships that will better enable them to collaborate with foreign counterparts in the future.

<http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2006/nsf06602/nsf06602.htm>

The Chateaubriand Fellowship

Due December 31, 2006

Offered by the Office for Science and Technology of the Embassy of France in the United States, it allows students enrolled in American universities to conduct research in a French laboratory (public or private). This program has two main goals: to allow American researchers to benefit from an Entries are now being sought for books published in 2006. The prize is awarded for the best scholarly work on the Middle East each year. Particular consideration will be given to books of sound scholarship that enhance understanding of the Middle East among a wider readership in the English speaking world.

http://www.dur.ac.uk/brismes/book_prize.htm

Marjorie Kovler Research Fellowship

Due March 15, 2007

The fellowship is intended to support a scholar in the production of a substantial work in the area of foreign intelligence and the presidency or a related topic. The successful candidate will develop at least a portion of her or his work from original research in archival materials from the collections of the Kennedy Library located in Boston, Massachusetts.

<http://www.jfklibrary.org/>

Dissertation Fellowship in Military History

Due CONTINUOUS

To encourage and support the production of dissertations in military history by qualified graduate students, the center offers up to four dissertation fellowships each academic year. Although the history of war on land is broadly defined in the fellowship program, the selection of winners gives preference to topics on the history of the U.S. Army.

<http://www.army.mil/cmhp/CMH/Fellowship.htm>

Public Information and Policy Research Grants ExxonMobil Corporation

Due CONTINUOUS

ExxonMobil supports organizations that research significant domestic and foreign policy issues and promote informed public discussion on issues such as economics, the environment, and law and justice.

experience in one of the best laboratories in France, and to develop scientific cooperation between France and the United States.

http://www.ambafrance-us.org/sst/chateaubriand_2005/index.htm

http://exxonmobil.com/Corporate/Citizenship/gcr_contributionsworldwide_givingguidelines.asp

Visiting Fellowship in Middle Eastern Economics

Due CONTINUOUS

The Saban Center for Middle East Policy at the Brookings Institution is accepting applications for a Visiting Fellow in Middle Eastern economic reform to join the Saban Center's Arab Democracy and Development Project for a period of six months to one year. The center especially encourages proposals for research on the relationship between economic reform and other changes in Arab society and politics, and the role of U.S. policy in regional economic transformation.

<http://www.brook.edu/admin/fellowships.htm>